

Avionté Annual Advisory Board Meeting: July 2009

Avionté held its annual Advisory Board Meeting on July 16-18, 2009. The Board brings together leaders from all aspects of business, including the President & CTO of a leading medical device software firm, VP of Global Solutions Development for a national staffing firm, Director of MIS for the largest privately held beauty company in the world and the President and Owner of a leading commercial security system corporation. The 3 day event brought together Avionté executives and business leaders across several industries to focus on building business processes, strategic planning and growth. The Board of Advisors was made up of Kim Corrance of Surgisoft, Teresa Creech of Kelly Services, Phil Oster of Paul Mitchell and Kim Klewer of Asset Protection Corp. The Advisors were carefully chosen for their extensive experience, success and accomplishments offering diverse perspective and benefit to Avionté. Bringing in outside knowledge from people who run large scale IT departments, have grown multi-million dollar service businesses from the ground up, successfully sell to fortune 500 companies and operate their own software technology firms, provided Avionté great insight into the future and growth potential of its staffing software initiatives. By all counts, the meeting was a great success in bringing forward new strategic and tactical plans for Finance, Sales, Marketing, Business Process and Technology.
